

Cardboard Arcade

Creativity. Imagination. Play. These are the forces that animate the richest classrooms. In this project, activate your students' creative fires by guiding them to construct an elaborate cardboard arcade that students from your school—and people from your community—can play with and enjoy.

When your students complete the project, they will have constructed a community resource that will draw people to your school, help form friendships and connections, and provide hours of enjoyment and entertainment for everyone.

For more project ideas, go to
BlueAppleTeacher.org