

Time-Traveling Tutors

The person doing the teaching is the one doing the learning—so help your students learn by having them teach future generations of your classroom! In this project, students study a concept you're learning in detail. They then devise creative ways to teach this concept to others and test their different ideas on sample audiences.

The project concludes when students record their most creative and powerful lesson so that you can use it with students next year to help individuals who may be struggling. For added impact, share your creations on social media so that the world can learn from the voice of your students.

FOR TEACHERS WHO WANT TO STAND OUT

For more project ideas, go to
BlueAppleTeacher.org